CHARTER CONSULTATION

On Monday 18th September all whanau should have received a letter (in a personally decorated envelope) from the Board of Trustees that explains our process for our Charter review. The link for the survey is - <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/G6VWZSS>.

WOW - WEARABLE ART

Congratulation to all our Year 7 and 8's on their fantastic costumes at last night's Artsplash performance. It is exciting to see your designs come to life. I would also like to take this opportunity to thank Anne Crewdson.

It is fantastic that you give your students the opportunity to learn through problem-solving, planning, designing and work collaboratively to create their original designs.

GREEN PARTY VISIT

On Tuesday 19th September James Shaw and Gareth Hughes from the Green Party Aotearoa came to visit the students of Roseneath School. James has a niece and nephew here so they helped in organising the trip.

Abigail (our PrEP Prime Minister) welcomed them to our school and Sumner (our Ministry of Communications) got to ask both Gareth and James some questions about their role, their party and then it was opened to the rest of the school.

James and Gareth were impressed with the knowledge our students had on environmental issues - Greenhouse gases, plastic bags (recycling) and electric cars.

PREP GOVERNMENT COMMUNICATION - MARKET EVENING INFORMATION

Parents may exchange real money to PrEP dollars on market night ($1 real dollar = $5 PrEP dollars.) This money can be exchanged in the office area from 5.45 - 6.30pm.

During market night companies may set up a raffle (companies may only set up one.) All raffle tickets are to be sold by 6:35pm. The winners' names should be put up on the PrEP news board. The winners of the raffles will either collect their prizes before 6:55 pm on market night or the item will be given to them on Wednesday. Companies may set up a silent auction if they wish, but that will be up to the company to set it up. A silent auction is where people put a slip of paper in a box stating how much they are willing to pay for the set item, and later the company can look through and find who had the highest bid. Same rule apply to silent auctions as the raffles. A company may do a raffle, or a silent auction, but not both.

WRITNG FROM LOWER DECK

Splat woke up early in the morning. Splat made a card for Kitten in his best handwriting. He felt very nervous when he was going to give the card to her.

Then Spike came along and teased Splat how much he loved Kitten. Splat threw his card in the rubbish bin. Kitten saw the card and picked it up and read the card. Kitten gave Splat a rhyming card. Then they became best friends.

NEWS FROM THE TOP

Liliana's WOW Process

Step 1: Materials

For my night time I needed a black dress, two sets of fairy lights, a black umbrella, black tights cardboard and paper.

I got my dress from opportunity for animals op shop in Miramar.

I got one set of fairy lights from my room and the other from uncle bills.

I got my black umbrella at The Warehouse

I got my black tights at home and the card and paper at home and school.

Step 2: Making

I made the dress by hand sewing the lights on in a zig zag to make it evenly spread on the front. Then I did the arms by taking different strands and using one per arm. I had some left over so I decided to use that at the back.

My original idea for the umbrella was to get another set of fairy lights like on the dress that came in 5 strands but I couldn't find that. Instead my Dad told me he had some semi-translucent tube that we could put the fairy lights through but they would still be visible. The lights wouldn't go through though so we decided to try a different approach. We coated the inside with olive oil so that we could make the inside more slippery and the lights went through. We attached the light tube to the outside of the umbrella with Velcro so that we could take it off when the umbrella had to close.

For the hat I made a cylinder out of cardboard and then a ring. I attached a headband but it wasn't stable enough so we added some tape and metal wire but it still wasn't stage enough. Luke gave me some elastic he had and I put it under the chin and that made it stay.

Preforming

We had arrived at the Michael Fowler Centre, I saw Ned and ran up to him and then we went up to the Lion Lounge. I got into costume and I looked way better than I had at the dress rehearsal, you couldn't see my blue shirt and I had done my hair and makeup. I had take the bigger side of my side part and put it into a pigtail. The other side was down. I had put on grey and black makeup to give me a kind of creepy look. I had navy lipstick, grey eye shadow and black blush. I put together my umbrella and put on my hat. We went downstairs but we didn't really know what to do so we went back upstairs. Then we had to go over to the doors to wait for our queue. Everyone who walked by kept staring at us and it was really annoying (ughhhh). Then we had to walk up the aisle as the music came on and I was really nervous but people looked at me and they seemed to like my costume so that was nice. Once we were on stage I stopped feeling nervous for some reason. I did my thing and people seemed to like it. I was told to twirl my umbrella at the front of the stage so I did and it was really fun. After we got off stage everyone kept telling me I moved really well on stage which was really annoying because I didn't. I hung out with Isla and Rebecca and then Mrs Crewdson gave us each a gummy worm which was yummmmm!

Overall I really, really enjoyed WOW and am excited to do it next year.

Harris's reflection after performing at Artsplash :

I think what went well for me was coming off stage after performing in front of a huge audience with a bucket full of confidence. When I hopped onto the stage I took the crowd out of my mind and just had fun performing. I even got some dance moves out of my sleeves because no one knew it was me. Lots of people laughed at us as we walked into the art exhibition, they even gave us high fives. I liked the fact that everyone knew who we were.
